Channel Lake Board Votes for Annexation

The members of the Channel Lake School Board voted Tuesday night to petition Antioch Grade School Board for annexation to the Antioch School District.

The petition for annexation will be presented to Richard Whitaker, superintendent of the Antioch Grade School District, this week. The petition will be presented to the Antioch Grade School Board at their next regular meeting, the second Tuesday in December, Dec. 15.

If approved by the Antioch Grade School Board, the petition will be presented to the County Board of School Trustees. They will set a date for a public hearing on the petition, at which time people from both school districts will have an opportunity to ask questions or voice objections.

After the hearing, the Board of Trustees will make a decision on whether or not to approve the petition. If approved, the Channel Lake Grade School will immediately become part of the Antioch school system.

Howard Scott, principal of the Channel Lake Grade School, said that Mr. Whitaker had given him to understand that the status quo will be preserved at Channel Lake School for the present school year, if the petition is approved.

Tenure of Channel Lake teachers would be carried over if they were transferred to one of the Antioch schools later, he said.

Dr. W. C. Petty, County Superintendent of Schools, expressed his approval of the move. "I think it will make for a better school system," he said. "After all it's all one neighborhood."

Mr. Scott commented that the Channel Lake School board wishes to complete annexation plans in the near future so as to avoid the unnecessary expense of a school board election next April.

Mr. Petty said that if the annexation petition is presented to the County Board of School Trustees in time, the public hearing will be held at the January 4 meeting of the Board.

The County Board of School Trustees is composed of seven members, with Dr. Petty as ex officio secretary. The seven members are Margaret S. Tibbetts, Deerfield; Gordon H. Smith, Lake Forest; Warren Chard, Grayslake; Edwin S. Hewitt, Libertyville; Dr. Harry E. Sagen, Waukegan; Robert F. Duha, Antioch; and LeRoy J. Peacy, Zion.

Mr. Whitaker said that an unofficial poll of the Antioch Grade School Board in November showed that board members were unanimously in favor of the annexation of Channel Lake district. They instructed President Les Sorinson to communicate their approval to the Channel Lake Board at that time. He had no reason to think the attitude of board members had changed since that time, Whitaker said.

"It makes sense," Mr. Whitaker said, "to complete the annexation as soon as possible. We will soon begin planning for the next school year. It will simplify matters if we know what to plan for."

Urges Flood Plain Regulations For Fox River Valley

A resolution urging the adoption of flood plain regulations in the Fox River watershed was approved at a recent meeting of the Tri-County Committee.

The Tri-County Problems committee is made up of representatives of Lake, Kenosha and McHenry Counties. They met at McHenry on Tuesday, Nov. 24, to discuss water resource management programs of the Fox River watershed.

Norman Drummond, Deputy Director of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission, discussed a model flood plain regulation. Copies of the regulation were distributed to the chairman of the three county boards, and it was requested that each county consider adopting the flood plain regulations.

John Morris, Superintendent of the Public Works Dept. of Lake County, pointed out that the addition of flood plain regulations would be beneficial in that they would reduce future flood damage, provide an open space and preserve the aesthetic qualities of a natural river bed.

Bert Harrison and William Kehr were guest speakers at the meeting. Mr. Harrison discussed the relationship between assessed valuations and water resources from an appraiser's viewpoint. He called the attention of the group to the fact that there are hundreds of thousands of acres of unimproved land in the Tri-County area, yet practically all of the water frontage is improved. These improved properties, he said, constitute a large proportion of the assessed valuation of the area, and the counties should concern themselves with development of programs designed to preserve the water resources.

Mr. Kehr reviewed the findings of a brief study of the Chain-O-Lakes performed by the Public Health Service as a part of its overall Illinois River Basin study. He stated that the problem of algae blooms in the Chain was basically one of the presence of nutrients in the Fox River and its tributaries. The following possible solutions were presented by Kehr:

1. The initiation of a master plan for sewage disposal;
2. Better soil management practices;
3. Establishing no-wake restrictions in shallow areas of the Chain O' Lakes to avoid stirring up nutrients;
4. Build impoundments to provide water at times when water level is low;
5. Avoid construction of dead-end channels, which promote growth of algae blooms;
6. Dredge certain areas of the lakes to remove rich bottom mud and use the material to build up shoreline areas.

The next meeting of the Tri-County Committee will be held in Lake County in January, 1965.

Local Man Chosen As Clavey Aid

An Antioch man has been chosen by Orville (Pat) Clavey, Coroner-elect, as his new chief deputy coroner.

Sheriff's Deputy Fred E. (Bud) Zeason, 110 Cherry Lane, Antioch, has been chosen by Clavey for the post. He will start his new duties at the same time Clavey is sworn into office, next Monday.

Zeason has been with the sheriff's office for about ten years. He has attended a number of FBI schools and is a graduate of the Chicago Police Department's detective school.

400 Teachers Attend 3rd Annual Workshop

The Third Annual Northwest Suburban Conference Teachers' Workshop was held on Wednesday, November 25. Over 400 teachers of the Conference attended sessions held at Lake Forest High School and Grant High School.

The Workshop this year deviated from the format of the past two years in that all departments had the services of outside resource personnel. These outside speakers were secured from Colleges and Universities in the area.

After many of the speakers presented their program, a question and answer period followed. Much exchange of information was promoted by this procedure. Experienced teachers learned of the latest innovations in their particular departments and the newer teachers gained valuable experience in listening to veterans from within their departments.

The Administrators of the eight conference schools visited the sessions with the purpose of acquainting themselves with current practices and trends in these areas.

Santa's Mail Boxes Ready For Christmas Mail From Kiddies

Antioch children can start writing to Santa Claus to tell him what they want for Christmas. The Lake Region Jaycees have put up Santa's mail boxes—one in front of Ace Hardware at Routes 59 and 173, and one near the Jaycees Information Center at the corner of Main and Lake Sts.

Children who mail their letters to Santa Claus in these boxes will get an answer from him if they put on a return address.

The Jaycees are cooperating with the Jaycees in this Christmas project.

The contract provides for the cleaning and widening of Sequoit Creek for 230 feet west of Tiffany Road. The flow of the stream is choked by grass and rubbish at points.

P. M. Gives Hints For Xmas Mail

"Please pack parcels solidly," was the plea of Postmaster Roy Kufalk.

The head of the Antioch Post Office also reminded his patrons that the use of free "local" and "out of town" separation bands will help move the mails faster. The bands are available at the post office or from most letter carriers.

December 5 is the suggested deadline for mailing out-of-town packages. "Don't worry about the parcels being delivered too early, just mark 'Don't Open Until Christmas' on the front," Mr. Kufalk said.

A tightly stuffed package, with nothing rattling around inside, will have less chance of being damaged in transit, he noted.

"When packing a gift, remember that the package you send may be shipped on the bottom of a mail sack and there may be heavier packages on top. Among the relatively few packages that are damaged in transit, improper packaging is the greatest factor," the postmaster cautioned.

Just to be on the safe side, the postmaster suggests that all packages be insured.

He noted that poor packaging and addresses which are either incorrect or not legible are responsible for the non-delivery of about half a million parcels each year. If the return address is incorrect or illegible and the package cannot be returned, it will be saved for 90 days. If unclaimed, the parcel is usually lost to the sender or intended recipient. Such parcels wind up in public auctions held at 15 major post offices across the nation.

All parcels should be addressed on only one side and should also have the address written on the inside of the package in case the exterior wrapping should come off.

"Toys For Tots" Is Marine Xmas Project For Needy

"Toys For Tots," the special Christmas project of the Marine Corps Reserve, is proceeding throughout Lake County.

Barrels have been placed in public places for people to deposit toys to be passed on to needy families at Christmas. In Antioch, the toy barrel is in the State Bank of Antioch.

PFC Paul Hameau is Antioch chairman of the Toy Drive. Either new or used toys are acceptable, but they must be repairable. They request that no games or puzzles be included, as there is not enough help to check them for completeness.

The toys will be distributed with the aid of volunteer workers from various area Welfare Agencies. The toy drive will conclude on December 21.

Chamber Members To Discuss Change

A meeting of the general membership of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce will be held at noon on Monday, December 7, at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

Under discussion will be an amendment to the by-laws. A proposal has been made that the regular bi-monthly meeting of Chamber members be changed to monthly luncheon meetings.

The Christmas decorations in the business area of Antioch will go up this week, it was announced. The decorations are provided by the Chamber of Commerce. Pole decorations will be the same as last year. An added feature will be three streamers of lights and decorations across the intersections of North Ave. and Route 83, at Routes 21 and 173 and at Rtes. 59 and 173.

New Lutheran Church Plans First Service

Wis. Deer Hunters Find Good Shooting

Deer hunters have been flocking to Wisconsin hunting areas in the past couple of weeks, many from the Antioch area. Three of the local hunters, returning with three deer loaded on their car, stopped in at an Antioch restaurant on the way home.

They had bagged one 7-point buck, one 4-point and one young spike horn. They had spent four days near Milton, Wis., and had shot two of the deer on the second day within 2 hours. The third one was felled about 10 a.m. on the third day.

The three hunters are Floyd Lang, Rte. 2, Box 27, Salem, Wis.; Bob LaBarr, Wilmet, and Allen Lang, Trevor.

EDITORIAL

It Takes Hard Work

Several people have commented indignantly to us, recently, on the poor turn-out at the High School Band Concert. The concert was excellent, we understand. A well-known guest conductor was present. All that was lacking was a large and appreciative audience.

Is Antioch really more remiss than most communities in its support of such functions? We doubt it.

You will find communities in which support of a certain phase of High School activity is general—perhaps the musical department, perhaps a certain sport. Why? Usually because attending such functions has become "the thing to do". Everybody does it.

And how did it reach this happy state? Because someone, or a small group of hard-working people, got out and worked for a long time to stimulate interest in the activity.

Just by the law of averages, the more tickets to any event that can be sold in advance, the larger attendance you'll get. People don't like to waste money—if they buy a ticket and can't go, they'll usually pass the ticket on to someone who can attend.

So the only helpful suggestion we can make for stimulating attendance at these very worthwhile activities is that some of the interested parents, and the band members themselves, really work at selling tickets in advance. Merely telling people they SHOULD support our excellent band isn't enough.

A word of advice: If you have an opportunity to attend—a cold-weather-season football game that is going to be on a national or regional hook-up on television, don't.

We shivered and shook through a succession of commercial spot timeouts in the deep freezer that was Memorial Stadium in Champaign recently and found the lengthy pauses between plays aggravating and discouraging.

At one point in the third quarter when Michigan State had the ball on the six inch line on the fourth down, time was called, apparently by the Spartans, although why they would want to slow their momentum at that time is hard to understand.

At least when you are watching the game at home you can use the commercial intervals to head for the refrigerator, although a trip each time out for a glass of brew would put considerable strain on the sensibilities.

In a recent communication State Senator Robert E. Coulson views with alarm, and justly so, a decision by State Highway Police and State Highway Department officials to ignore a state law prohibiting the use of automobile tires that have metal cleats or projections coming in contact with the pavement.

Sen Coulson quite properly feels that there should be a strong protest from the citizenry about this attempt to legislate laws by the Executive branch of the government.

The tire company, according to Sen. Coulson, is content to wait until the next session of the Illinois General Assembly repeals this law before selling its new tires, but the executive departments of the government say, "No, go ahead and use them and we just won't enforce the law."

We agree with Sen. Coulson that this is an usurpation of powers assigned to the legislature, but we wonder if he is going to be content with writing a learned piece on the matter or is he going to take some positive action as a member of the legislature in blocking this and other usurpations of power. Sen Coulson has earned a reputation as a legislative quipster, as an orator, and as a creator of unlikely-to-pass legislation, but there are times when we would like to see him at the barricade in Springfield fighting a little harder in a practical, effective way to stem the ills of which he writes and comments.

It isn't enough to tell the people something bad is taking place in our government. An elected representative must throw himself at the wheels of the enemy's gun carriages on occasion and he must be willing and ready to become a part of the fight and not be content to sit by as an observer or aloof correspondent commenting from ringside, but never really becoming a part of the action he is describing.

Coroner-elect Orville (Pat) Clavey takes over the office held for 12 years by Robert H. Babcox, on Monday, Dec. 7, but as of this writing he isn't sure just where he will take over.

There is still some confusion about what office he will occupy as various county officials prowl about the building with room stretchers seeking space for various departments.

Just think of the happy times future generations of county officials will have with all the space that will be available when the new county building is completed.

Other county officials who will be joining Clavey in taking the oath of office will be Circuit Court Clerk Shephardie (Pucin) Sulthine, County Auditor John Darrow, and County Recorder Frank Nustra, all of whom went through the ritual for the first time four years ago.

Cuba Supervisor Joseph P. Welch came forward with a sound suggestion the other day: "We should revoke the resolution that provided for construction of a county building annex in the central part of the county simultaneously with the new courthouse, if we are not going to go ahead with its erection."

ALONG THE WAY with Annie Mae

Now that you have had your fill (diced, hashed, creamed and croqueted) of the old Gobbler, please focus your attention to the season almost at hand. All over the country Villages, Cities and Hamlets trumpeted the arrival of St. Nick either on Thanksgiving Day or the day immediately following. Somehow we have the feeling we were not as good as we should have been all year, for he overlooked our Town completely I think. Even the good little elves haven't "decked the halls (streets)" around here this year. Regardless whether we think that Nov. 27th is too early for his appearance, 750,000 folks in the freezing big city still think it's a great tradition to place Johnny on that huge red lap and hear Santa ask, "And what do you want for Christmas this year?"

THE LATEST REPORT: Even All Baba would have been out-smarted by the thieves who set off the burglar alarm at the Antioch Lumber Co. the other night, then laid in wait until it was shut off, and promptly made their entrance. While Taylor Shoes permanently closed their doors this past week, another Main St. business begins depleting its inventory. Bob and Vicky Wilton entertained with a Hoarlin Twenties party last Saturday.

and we were sure surprised to see how many double-breasted wide-lapel suits are still around.

NOTES TO YOU: An old key marriage looks like it's headed for a finale.

Photogenic! Our description of Postmaster Weatherman Roy Kufalk, whose features appeared on the Regional News Page of the Waukegan News Sun the other night. . . well, the skiers are all smiles now that we have a blanket of white.

THE LAST DROP: Nothing more that I can say except to bid you adieu Along the Way.

Pupils To Attend Chemistry Seminar

Students from Antioch area schools have been invited to attend the Chemical Council's Eighth Annual High School Chemistry Career Seminar, Saturday, Dec. 19.

The Seminar will be held from 10:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. in the Avenue East and West Rooms, Belmont and Plaza Rooms of the Pick Congress Hotel, Chicago.

According to Joseph E. Rich, President, Morton Chemical Company and Chairman of the Council, the Seminar is designed to give students information on careers in chemistry and science through person-to-person interviews with representatives from all the major job areas in the industry. Information on educational requirements will be provided by representatives from Chicago area colleges and universities.

Students will first view an orientation film, which outlines all the jobs in the industry. Then, they will take part in panel discussions, and individual counseling sessions.

The Chemical Industries Council of the Midwest is composed of over 58 leading chemical and pharmaceutical companies. The prime purpose of the Council is to provide information on careers in chemistry.

If there is a need for a branch office building and if it is economically sound to construct such a building.

The committee was appointed, incidentally, long after the resolution providing for the building was passed.

Cold-Shy? Not Sissy But Prisoner, Dr. Says

Sportmen, take heart! If cold air and winds keep you from enjoying your favorite outdoor pastimes in winter, you're not just being a "sissy"—and you're certainly not alone.

According to physician-sportsman, Dr. Julius M. Kowalski, of Princeton, Ill., your sensitivity to cold is shared by millions of persons with heart and lung problems such as asthma, bronchitis, angina and emphysema.

He labels these unfortunate individuals "cold air prisoners."

Reporting in the current issue of the Illinois Medical Journal—the official publication of the Illinois State Medical Society—Dr. Kowalski said these people suffered "pain, cough and shortness of breath every time they venture out in cold weather. Even the shortest exposure, like walking to the bus, can cause intolerable distress."

In addition, he said, many sensitive persons actually suffer allergic reactions to winter's icy blasts. The consequences of intolerance to cold air are more serious than one might think. Dr. Kowalski said the problem costs industry millions of dollars in lost work hours each year and forces thousands of children to miss school.

"Just why cold air causes such crippling effects in susceptible persons has been a medical problem for many years," the physician explained. He said the answer was discovered only recently in studies of patients with angina pectoris—a painful constriction of the blood vessels of the heart.

"Anginal patients suffer attacks—or at least display changes in heart circulation—when their mouth and nose are exposed to cold air. These reactions demonstrated to medical scientists that cold air can aggravate receptors in the upper respiratory tract of persons with a variety of lung and heart problems."

Soon after these observations were verified, Dr. Kowalski reported, medical science came to the rescue—with a cold air mask that fits over the nose and mouth and actually pre-heats cold air before it is breathed in.

"The cold air mask permits thousands of sportmen who are sensitive to cold air or suffering from some chronic respiratory tract condition to watch or participate in their favorite cold weather sports without consequence," Dr. Kowalski asserted.

Many persons who formerly had to reject outdoor jobs are now able to make the living of their choice in relative comfort.

Even children who formerly were cold air prisoners because of asthma, bronchitis and other chronic lung and heart conditions are now able to romp in the snow with other kids.

A pioneer in the development of the cold air mask is Dr. Louis A. Terman, an internist at Columbus Hospital in Chicago. Dr. Terman's mask—produced commercially by Carmen Commodities Corporation of Chicago—is made of knitted washable cloth and heats pre-inhaled air to a comfortable 65 degrees. Heated by a small, nickel-cadmium battery worn in the patient's pocket or coat, the unit can be used for 3½ to 5 hours without a battery recharge.

"Although not a cure for the underlying conditions affected by cold air," Dr. Kowalski asserted, "cold air masks eliminate distress and reduce chances of incapacitating attacks—even in blustery winds and freezing temperatures. In this way they provide new freedom for 'cold air prisoners.'"

There's a vital question that concerns all of us. And it's this: Is good health a matter of chance... or is there something basic, some dependable, secure way to maintain health? Well, there's an interesting answer and you can hear it in this program in "THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU" series.

Household Hints

See March Women Director, Pine Cleaner Information Center

Rain, rain go away — but even if it does, the homemaker is faced with these rainy day reminders:

Mud — one way to stop mud before it tracks in is to place clean plastic matting at front door and back. These mats serve as storage areas for muddy over-shoes before anyone enters the house. Clean-up is easy — just take mats to the sink, shake off debris and wash the plastic with a pine oil cleaner. The raincoat can go back into the closet — and so can the plastic mats — for storing till the next rains come.

Fur — There's nothing worse than fur unless it's wet fur. Rescue fur from instant fur removal! Scrub fur off shoes by using a household cleaning fluid and a strong pine cleaner solution. This same recipe works for tricks made by wet sneakers.

Musty smells — Keep musty smells away by frequent pine cleaner treatments. For example, keep closets fresh by giving them a sponge-off from top to bottom with a pine cleaner solution. Use a cedar pine deodorant on hangers in your closets. Basement and attic mustiness can be held down by floor swabbing with pine cleaners. And a pine deodorant spray adds a good finishing touch anywhere.

Water, water everywhere — If you have an umbrella stand, tuck a miniature long-handled cellulose sponge mop among the umbrellas for instant mop-ups. Then if the rain comes again another day, you'll be prepared for keeping it outdoors.

For a set of twelve free "Household Hints" leaflets and a Cleaning Checklist, write to Dept. C.R. Pine Cleaner Information Center, 1023 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C. 20030.

DOUBLE SHOCK PROGRAM!

"GODZILLA vs THE THING" & "VOYAGE TO THE END OF THE UNIVERSE"

March of Dimes Volunteers Help Parents of Birth Defects Children

Picture a child crippled by a severe birth defect.

A tragedy? Unmistakably.

But how severe are the effects on the parents of this child? What is the extent of their shock and suffering?

Dr. Hans Zellweger, a well-known professor of pediatrics and genetics at the State University of Iowa College of Medicine and medical director of the March of Dimes-supported Birth Defects Center there, reports that in his experience 80 per cent of the parents of defective babies harbor unwarranted feelings of guilt.

He believes that they, like their afflicted child, need help. For that reason he is about to organize group therapy "classes" in which troubled parents can talk among themselves and with medical experts to discuss the problems created by this family tragedy.

Dr. Zellweger points out that more than a quarter of a million babies are born every year in the United States with birth defects—among them blindness, deafness, missing extremities, imperfect spines and nervous systems, and many other crippling disorders. Feelings of guilt and humiliation in the parents of these children are commonplace and have been for centuries. He explains that unfortunately this sense of shame persists even in the "enlightened" 20th century, although the individual pediatrician today does all he or she can to combat it.

Help Is Expanding

Help for those grief- and guilt-stricken parents is being provided by March of Dimes chapters on a growing scale in several sections of the country.

"Actually, most of these parents aren't in need of medical treatment, but they are in need of some psychiatric help and the opportunity to talk over their problems with others similarly afflicted," according to Dr. Virginia Aggar, director of the division of congenital malformations of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

MARCH OF DIMES volunteers aid in easing the psychological and other problems confronting parents of children with birth defects. Above, at Mankato, Minn., parents and members of March of Dimes chapter listen to lecture on birth defects by Dr. Warren Warwick, pediatrician, of University of Minnesota Medical School.

"Also, they are in need of a healthy dose of truth about birth defects," she adds. "That truth is that so far as medical science knows, by far the majority of parents of a defective baby have no reason to reproach themselves, or to point the finger of suspicion at the other partner in marriage."

March of Dimes chapters in five Minnesota counties now hold meetings of parents each month to discuss means of reducing themselves of their unjustified feelings of self-reproach. Usually they are addressed by a pediatrician and are informed about the progress of March of Dimes research grants in birth defects at leading university-affiliated medical centers and laboratories across the nation.

At Houston, Tex., the Harris County Chapter has established a Spina Bifida Educational Association which meets monthly in a seminar room at Texas Children's Hospital. Fifteen to 20 sets of parents attend the through coordinated planning.

"In the light of these benefits gained through an informal association, the member companies foresee even greater savings in the future from formalizing our joint planning operations. These savings in turn will mean lower prices for customers."

"Talent, knowledge, success are important to human existence. Yet talent without dedication, knowledge without love, success without humility may easily be destructive." — Rabbi Abraham Heschel.

Electric Companies Form Power-Pooling Network

Organization of the largest power pooling network in the U. S. has been announced by a group of electric companies operating in an area embracing much of the midwestern part of the country and extending east as far as Virginia.

The group has set up a formal regional organization called the Mid-America Interpool Network (MAIN).

The electric systems involved include American Electric Power Corporation, Commonwealth Edison Company, the Illinois-Missouri Pool, the Indiana Power Pool and the Wisconsin Planning Group.

The members of MAIN, which for more than a year have cooperated on an informal basis, will plan and coordinate the power supplies for their service areas under the new arrangement. These systems use 345,000-volt transmission lines and other high voltage facilities for extensive interchange of electricity.

The program involves operations in 10 states—Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, southern Michigan, Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin. More than 7,500,000 customers are served in this region. Utilities interconnected with MAIN members include public as well as investor-owned systems.

Members of the group estimate the construction programs for generating and transmission facilities in the network's area between now and 1980 will total more than seven billion dollars.

MAIN was organized at a recent meeting in Chicago attended by principals of each of the member power systems. First chairman and present spokesman for MAIN is Thomas G. Ayers, President of Commonwealth Edison.

He said it is expected that MAPP (Mid-continent Area Power Planners), a large regional pooling group operating in the states immediately west of the MAIN area and in the Province of Manitoba, Canada, will be represented in MAIN. Inclusion of a MAPP representative in MAIN would provide inter-regional coordination and assure continuity of planning for the large EHV grid which will cover both areas.

Another group of companies serving portions of Missouri and Kansas, constituting the MOKAN power pool, is planning a 345 kv interconnection with the Illinois-Missouri Pool and an expansion in its planning group which would include representation in MAIN. This arrangement would further extend the area of economic planning.

"One of the principal benefits to be derived from MAIN," Mr. Ayers said, "will be the reductions in investment costs through coordinated planning of generating and transmission facilities."

"This principle has been demonstrated by three MAIN members—American Electric Power, Commonwealth Edison and Wis. Electric Power Company—who have been able through interchange of power to delay, for significant periods during the last few years, generating station construction expenditures of approximately $100,000,000 more and more people are moving up to total electric living

Every month

The reason? Simple. Electricity is so easy to live with.

With flameless electric heat, for example, each room can have its own thermostat. You can enjoy 80° in the bath, 72° in the living room and 65° in the bedroom. There's no burning fuel, nothing to make dirt . . .

walls and furniture stay clean far longer. Come summer, electric air conditioning wrings heat and humidity from the air along with most of the annoying pollens.

Electric cooking takes the flame out of the kitchen. People stay cooler, and pans, walls and curtains stay cleaner. And, because electric heat is controlled heat, it takes the guesswork out of cooking. Foods cooked in an electric oven have a done-to-a-turn flavor that only radiant heat and insulation on all six sides can provide.

Electrically dried clothes come out sweet and fresh because there's no burning fuel to cause an odor. With no pilot light, power ignition or extra cost for tumbler drive, the average family's drying bill comes to only $1.25 a month.* And an electric dryer costs $20 to $40 less to buy.

*See how easy it can be to move up to total electric living at your house. Call us for details, today.

You stay cool, calm and collected with flameless electricity. Precise, automatically controlled cooking, washing and drying—are at your fingertips.

MOOSE TOPICS

OPERATION SANTA CLAUS
Governor Ed. Peterson, officers and members of the Antioch Moose Lodge have once again adopted a resolution to support the Moose "Operation Santa Claus" campaign by sponsoring a toy collection and distribution drive for needy children according to Jerry Miller, chairman of the lodge's Civic Affairs committee.

It is not necessary that all toys be new, but in the case of used toys, they must be undamaged and in workable and presentable condition. "We regret that time will not permit the repair or rejuvenation of used toys," said Jerry Miller, "so therefore, the used toys donated must be in good condition."

There will be five collection depots in Antioch for the deposit of toys for needy children in this campaign to make this a Joyful Christmas for all boys and girls in this area. The five locations are: A & P Store, Lake Street; Moose Home, Main Street; Jewel Tea Store, Lake Street; Art's Paint Store, Lake Street, and the J.G.A. Store, Routes 59 & 173. Anyone wishing to donate a toy can do so by placing their toy in the container placed at any one of the five locations mentioned above.

Needy children, homes, orphanages and hospitals, whose names will be obtained by the Moose Lodge from recognized social welfare agencies, will be recipients of these toys. All of the toys will be distributed in the local area and none will be sent to outside institutions or homes. "We want this to be very much a local project for our own needy kids," said chairman Jerry Miller.

PAST EVENTS

Jakob, all sponsored by Scott Birdsell of Lindenhurst; Edward Brylanc sponsored by George Polynka; William Munch by Robert Anderson, and Dr. Robert Bywell, sponsored by his brother, Dr. Arthur Bywell of Fox Lake. The Antioch ritual staff performed the ceremony. Refreshments and dancing followed the initiation. The next L.O.O.M. initiation will be on Sunday morning, December 13.

The Antioch Moose Ritual team attended a breakfast at the Barrington Moose Lodge last Sunday morning followed by an initiation of six new members into the Barrington lodge. Free Throws Make Victory Margin For Sequoit Cagers

Antioch was outthrust by an aggressive Salem team Wednesday night, Nov. 25, but managed to hang on and register their second victory of the current basketball season, 44 to 37. Playing on the loser's court, the Sequoits scored only eight baskets but dumped in 28 free throws to make the victory margin.

NICC Urges Open Season On N. Pike

Members of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club decided at their meeting last Wednesday night to press for an open ice-fishing season on Northern Pike.

During the discussion, it was brought out that a comprehensive survey of fish species in the Chain O' Lakes showed the numbers of Northern Pike in the water were increasing.

Reason for the members' decision, according to Harry H. Stern, was to keep the balance of various fish species. The survey shows predators, such as the striped and pike, increasing in lakes in this area, while the numbers of panfish, such as bluegills, sunfish and black bass are decreasing.

Pike feed on minnows. If the panfish population is depleted too much, say the sportsmen, the pike and other predators will go hungry.

The artificial imbalance created by closed seasons on certain species of fish and animals can often defeat its own end, according to some conservationists. Too heavy a population of any species results in starvation and disease among the protected animals or fish.

Secondly, say the conservationists, a certain percentage of any crop should be harvested or it goes to waste.

Those opposed to the open ice-fishing season on Northern Pike argue that fish caught through the ice are close to the spring spawning season. This destroys a potential of many Pike.

Club members say they will discuss the possibility of the ice-fishing season on Pike with various conservation officials and petitions will be circulated.

Urges Hunters To Thin Out Cottontails

The opening of the 1964 rabbit hunting season on Tuesday, Nov. 24, prompts the suggestion from state biologists that Illinois sportsmen pay more attention to the cottontail.

Biologists find evidence that in many areas cottontail rabbits are underharvested every year, despite long hunting seasons.

Studies by biologists of the Illinois Natural History Survey in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Conservation have shown that at least 50 per cent of the fall population of cottontail rabbits in an area can be harvested during a hunting season without affecting the hunting season the following year.

Although the cottontail is already Illinois' number one game animal, it appears that rabbits are capable of supplying even more hours of sport and more game in the bag to Illinois hunters than they do now, especially in southern counties.

In the final stanza, 18 to 13, the Sequoits will open their conference schedule Saturday when they meet the Panthers of Round Lake at Round Lake. The first match is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Bernie Smith was the leading scorer for the Sequoits with 14 points on one basket and 12 free throws. Vic Rogers followed with 10 points. Smith and Rogers led the rebounding for Antioch with 10 and 8 respectively. Bruce Dunek led in both categories for Salem with 10 points and 7 rebounds.

Sequoits Fail In Bid For Mooseheart Championship

Batavia spoiled Antioch's hopes for a repeat as champions in the Mooseheart Basketball Tournament this year by defeating the Sequoits in the first game of the tourney Friday night 57 to 50 at Mooseheart.

The Sequoits trailed 24 to 18 at halftime but fought back in the third quarter to tie the score at 37 all. Bob Schmitz and Junior forward Mike Sterbenz led the assault.

The Sequoit offense slowed down with the loss of Bob Schmitz early in the fourth quarter via five fouls. Batavia out-scored the Sequoits to move into the tourney finals Saturday night.

Sequoits Traction Mooseheart

Antioch regained some of their poise Saturday night as they handily defeated Mooseheart in the consolation bracket of the four team tourney. Mooseheart, who lost to Lake Park in their first game of the tourney, made a close contest of it for the better part of the first half.

Vic Rogers, 6'9" center sparked the Sequoits with 31 points and with the help of Bernie Smith dominated the boards with 26 rebounds between them.

Leading only 11 to 10 at the end of the first quarter, the Sequoits put on a 20 point scoring surge in the second period to take a commanding 31 to 22 halftime bulge.

The issue was never in doubt after that although Mooseheart held the Sequoits to 13 points in the third quarter. The Sequoit defense was equally tough, however, as Mooseheart could manage only 11 points themselves.

Antioch spurred for another 20 points in the final stanza with Rogers doing the heavy work.

Antioch completely dominated the back boards gathering in 42 rebounds to 15 for Mooseheart. Antioch hit 26 of 74 attempts from the field for 34% and 12 of 17 for a respectable 60% at the free throw line.

Mooseheart had 17 of 64 from the field and 11 of 19 at the charity line.

Rogers led the scoring for the Sequoits with 15 points with Smith and Bob Schmitz following with 10 each. Jim Horried led the losers with 12 points.

Mike Sterbenz, making his first appearance as a starter, came close to tying the school record for the number of assists in a single game. Mike had 11, one short of the record, held by Rich Behrens. Behrens had 12 assists in his 1957-58 season, accomplishing his feat against McHenry and then later in the year against Grant.

Antioch will host Round Lake Friday as they open their 1964 conference campaign. Round Lake, suffering from lack of experience, will come into the game with an 0-2 record for the season, losing to Maryville and Woodstock. They have three returning lettermen this year and if you can go by past history they always have a hustling ball club.

Sequoits Fail In Bid For Mooseheart Championship

Batavia spoiled Antioch's hopes for a repeat as champions in the Mooseheart Basketball Tournament this year by defeating the Sequoits in the first game of the tourney Friday night 57 to 50 at Mooseheart.

The Sequoits trailed 24 to 18 at halftime but fought back in the third quarter to tie the score at 37 all. Bob Schmitz and Junior forward Mike Sterbenz led the assault.

The Sequoit offense slowed down with the loss of Bob Schmitz early in the fourth quarter via five fouls. Batavia out-scored the Sequoits to move into the tourney finals Saturday night. Sequoits Troupe Mooseheart

Antioch regained some of their poise Saturday night as they handily defeated Mooseheart in the consolation bracket of the four team tourney. Mooseheart, who lost to Lake Park in their first game of the tourney, made a close contest of it for the better part of the first half.

Vic Rogers, 6'9" center, sparked the Sequoits with 31 points and with the help of Bernie Smith dominated the boards with 26 rebounds between them.

Leading only 11 to 10 at the end of the first quarter, the Sequoits put on a 20 point scoring surge in the second period to take a commanding 31 to 22 halftime bulge.

The issue was never in doubt after that although Mooseheart held the Sequoits to 13 points in the third quarter. The Sequoit defense was equally tough, however, as Mooseheart could manage only 11 points themselves.

Antioch spurred for another 20 points in the final stanza with Rogers doing the heavy work.

Antioch completely dominated the back boards gathering in 42 rebounds to 15 for Mooseheart. Antioch hit 26 of 74 attempts from the field for 34% and 12 of 17 for a respectable 68% at the free throw line.

Mooseheart had 17 of 64 from the field and 11 of 19 at the charity line.

Rogers led the scoring for the Sequoits with 15 points with Smith and Bob Schmitz following with 10 each. Jim Horried led the losers with 12 points.

Mike Sterbenz, making his first appearance as a starter, came close to tying the school record for the number of assists in a single game. Mike had 11, one short of the record, held by Rich Behrens. Behrens had 12 assists in his 1957-58 season, accomplishing his feat against McHenry and then later in the year against Grant.

Antioch will host Round Lake Friday as they open their 1964 conference campaign. Round Lake, suffering from lack of experience, will come into the game with an 0-2 record for the season, losing to Maryville and Woodstock. They have three returning lettermen this year and if you can go by past history they always have a hustling ball club.
